THE ROOSEVELT ROUNDUP ANNUAL

- R -

May, 1954

Dedication

The 1954 Roosevelt High School annual is dedicated to the students and faculty of Roosevelt in the hope that they will carry on the traditions and spirit of the Great Roughrider to the best of their abilities.

An inspiration to everyone was the life of Mr. William Koch, beloved biology teacher, who passed away May 4, 1954. Mr. Koch came to Roosevelt when the school opened in 1923. Although reserved and quiet in his manner, he exhibited the highest degree of integrity, honesty, and loyalty—three qualities which made him one of the most respected teachers at Roosevelt. Let it be said that Mr. Koch brought out in his own way the true character of Roosevelt. Through such dedicated lives the prestige and good standing of a school are determined.

The Guiding Light

Certainly the guiding light of our thinking and actions is the faculty of Roosevelt. The teachers and advisors are enthusiastic boosters of all TRHS activities.

Serving as president of the faculty this year was Mr. Izac Emrich. Miss Ruth Baumgartner held the office of vice president, and Mr. Irvin Wildman served as secretary-treasurer. The duties of the flower and gift committee chairmen were filled by Miss Sophie Larsen and Miss Beulah Newton, respectively.

Miss Delaplane, Miss Neven, Mr. Angerer, Mr. Craft, Mr. Briseno, and Mr. Langland were the new members of the faculty this year. Mr. Edward Blaine transferred to Callanan Junior High School after the first semester. Replacing him was Miss Gould, who came to America from Wales.

Mr. Frank Hildreth distinguished himself by being elected president of the Iowa State Education Association.

Surely it may be realized that Roosevelt has one of the finest faculties to be found anywhere.

Stars on Parade

Certainly stars on parade are the seniors who graduated in January. The class of January 1954 was small in number but unified. Memories of their final year at Roosevelt include football and basketball games, open houses, dances, the long awaited senior mixers, and the gala Christmas holidays. The students were kept busy Senior Week with the banquet, class day, the prom, and graduation.

From this small class came the Homecoming Queen, Student Congress officers, and the leading players in "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Graduation on January 28 culminated three happy high school years for the class of January 1954 and eighty more names were added to the list of Roosevelt alumni.

SENIOR OFFICERS

Stars on Parade

Other stars on parade were the members of the extremely large and busy Class of June 1954. The calendar of activities for their final year of high school was as crowded as their homerooms.

Highlighting the activities and events in which the seniors participated was the trip to Iowa City for the State Basketball Tournament. Nearly every member of the class attended the games. The seniors were also enthusiastic participants of the football, swimming, track, and baseball teams.

This class of nearly three hundred students was gathered together for the first senior meeting early in March. At that time the class officers were elected. The long awaited senior parties and other activities were in full swing by the midde of May.

Through the combined efforts of the many committees, the class officers, the faculty, and the advisors, the senior year for the June class of 1954 was everything it should have been—truly memorable.

Supporting Stars

As supporting stars, the Senior B's are small in number, but they enter into the school activities with much enthusiasm. These mid-year students participate in all of the activities offered by the school as well as being high in scholastic achievement.

Perhaps the activity in which they have achieved the most is athletics. Outstanding are the boys who participated in football, basketball, swimming, baseball, and track. The class was certainly well represented on Roosevelt's outstanding basketball team. The girls, as members of the tennis and golf teams, have done a commendable job also.

The girls were well represented and active in Girls' Club this year. They participated enthusiastically in the activities of the various committees and on the many projects of the club.

In January, members of the class served at the Baccalaureate tea for the January Class of 1954.

The Senior B class will become ambitious leaders who will carry on the Roosevelt traditions and live up to the Roosevelt Creed.

Stars of Tomorrow

Stars of tomorrow, the members of the Junior Class, were very active in the many events this past year.

Since the juniors were allowed to select their own schedules and teachers for the first time this year, they became more independent. Perhaps the most important scholastic achievement was the Junior Theme.

A most outstanding and happy event this year was the trip to Iowa City for the State Tournament. Most of the juniors were able to attend the tournament games. Besides going to Iowa City, the girls, who were very active in Pep Club, chartered buses to the other out-of-town games.

The juniors contributed to Roosevelt's fine record of athletic achievements by excelling in all sports.

The junior class proved this year that they can work well, not only individually, but as a well-organized group. With their fine attitudes and enthusiasm they will carry on the Roosevelt tradition.

Coming Attractions

The coming attractions are the enthusiastic sophomores who were so interested and active in Roosevelt's activities. The sophomore girls have contributed many excellent members to both Sharks and Leaders Clubs. The boys have exhibited many potential track, baseball, swimming, tennis, golf, football, and basketball stars. These athletes made a fine showing on their own. They took Second Team City Football Championship and second place in second team basketball. The sophomores' spirit and attendance at all the games exceeded past records.

The New Girls' Tea, Harvest Dance, 10B Party, Homecoming Dance, Victory Dance, and open houses provided entertainment and opportunities for the sophomores to become better acquainted. Christmas and spring formals were well attended and enjoyed by the sophomores. Iowa City brought extra excitement to the year.

United from several different junior high schools, this group has become a well-acquainted unit of enthusiastic participants in Roosevelt High activities.

Amateur Hour

The amateur but never to be forgotten part of Roosevelt are the Junior High students.

Highlighting Junior High activity this year was the formation of the Latin Club, consisting of ninth grade students. Another exciting event this year was the Junior High Talent Show, which proved to be very successful.

The "Tiny Teds" made a fine showing at athletic contests and many went to Iowa City for the tournament.

Working in their own clubs, on senior high crews, and on the newspaper staff are a few of the activities which hold the Junior High interest.

The Junior High continues as an important and enthusiastic part of Roosevelt.

Focus on Sports

Roosevelt's focus this year was certainly on sports, since all of the athletic teams did such a commendable job. Roosevelt, having a wealth of ability in the field of athletics, gained much prestige and many new trophies this year.

In football, Roosevelt placed second in the city series race. The swimming team won the city title for the twenty-second consecutive year and they placed second in the state meet. Above all, the basketball team, which tied with East High for the city championship, placed second in the State Tournament at Iowa City. At least three-fourths of the Roosevelt student body attended the games and supported the team with unsurpassable spirit.

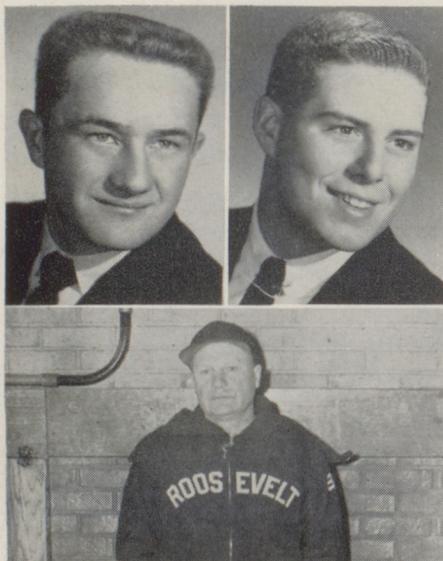

Although the other athletic teams do not receive as much glory as the football, swimming, and basketball teams, they should not be overlooked. The track team took second place in the Valley Relays, and first place in the Oskaloosa Relays. The baseball team, with several returning letterman, made a fine showing for Roosevelt, as did the tennis and golf teams.

The boys and girls who participated in the athletic events and the spectators who boosted the teams revealed the highest degree of sportsmanlike conduct and school spirit. Even though the competition was tough, the students carried on the fine Roosevelt spirit of which students can long be proud.

Video Headlines

Certainly important enough to make video headlines were some of the activities at Roosevelt this year. Because of the varied interests of its students, Roosevelt has developed many different types of organizations and clubs.

Probably the largest clubs in Roosevelt are Girls' Club and Boys' Club. Every senior high girl and boy respectively is automatically a member. Two fine projects completed this year by Girls' Club were the decoration of Blank Memorial Hospital for different holidays and the furnishing of a playroom at the Jewish Community Center. Other Girls' Club highlights of the year were the Harvest Dance in November and a spring style show presented in April. The annual Boys' Club project was the popular Dad's night.

Among the most educational clubs at Roosevelt are the Future Teachers and Future Nurses Clubs. These groups meet frequently to hear guest speakers, to have discussions, or to go on tours.

For those interested in the theater, the Costume Club and Makeup Club provide interesting activity. Because they provide all of the costumes and makeup, these two groups are of considerable help to the all-school plays.

The Math-Science Club has been of much interest and value to its members. These students have heard reports on scientific developments, heard guest speakers, and have gone on field trips during the year.

Two athletic clubs for girls are Sharks and Leaders. Sharks Club sponsored the annual Sharks' pageant, held in the fall this year, and also a newly organized synchronized swimming clinic. Leaders Club organized the girls' gym classes and intramural tournaments.

As the governing body of the school, Student Congress took an active part in many school functions. As a start toward better interschool relations, Congress members met with representatives of other city high schools this year.

The athletic teams had several enthusiastic groups as boosters. Under the leadership of the cheerleaders, the Pep Club led the school in cheers and chants at all games.

In addition to the impressive Roosevelt band and its majorettes, the Riderettes, a newly formed girls' drill team, contributed color and vitality during the football season.

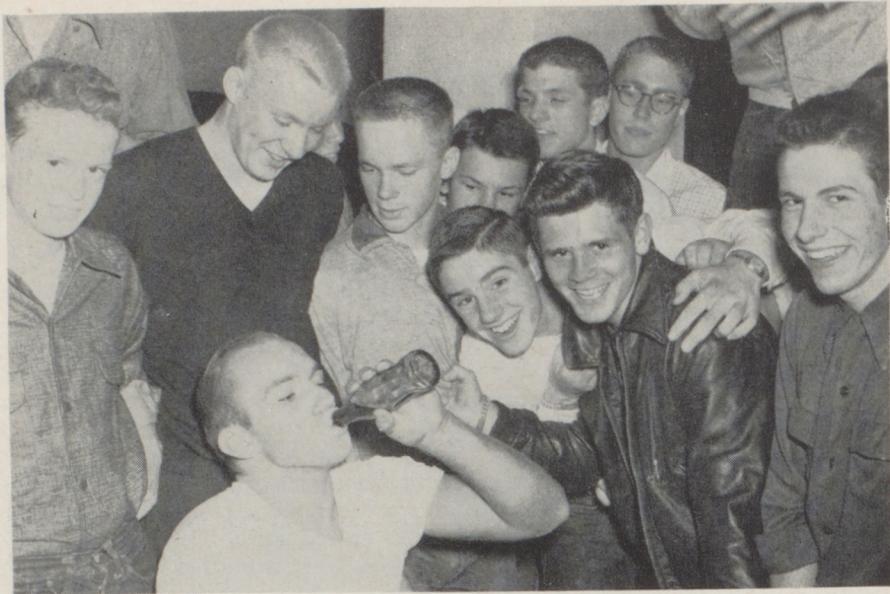

The fine vocal and instrumental groups presented their annual music festival in January. Concert Chorus made several civic appearances during the Christmas and Easter seasons.

Members of the spring and fall Roundup staffs learned the art of journalism and edited interesting papers every two weeks.

Bridge Club offered its members valuable instruction in the art of playing bridge. The club met every other week to play bridge and enjoy refreshments.

Scribblers Club was formed for those students who like to write. Members experimented with all types of writing and analyzed each other's work.

The technical crews were valuable helps during plays, assemblies, and movies.

A Soliloquy

"I've heard it said the world's a dismal place
But I know better . . .

for I have seen the dawn, and walked in the splendor of a morning's sun . . . blinked at the brilliance of the dew, and beheld the gold and crimson of an autumn landscape.

"I've heard it said the world is sad.
I can't agree . . .

for I have heard the cheerful songs of feathered masters . . . heard the low laughter of the leaves, and the everlasting chuckle of a mountain brook.

"I've heard it said the world's a musty, sordid thing.
It can't be true . . .

for I have seen the rain . . . watched it bathe
the earth, the very air . . . and I have seen the sky, newly scrubbed and spotless, blue from end to end . . .
and I've watched the Winter's snow drape tree and bush,
to look like Nature's freshly laundered linen hung to dry.

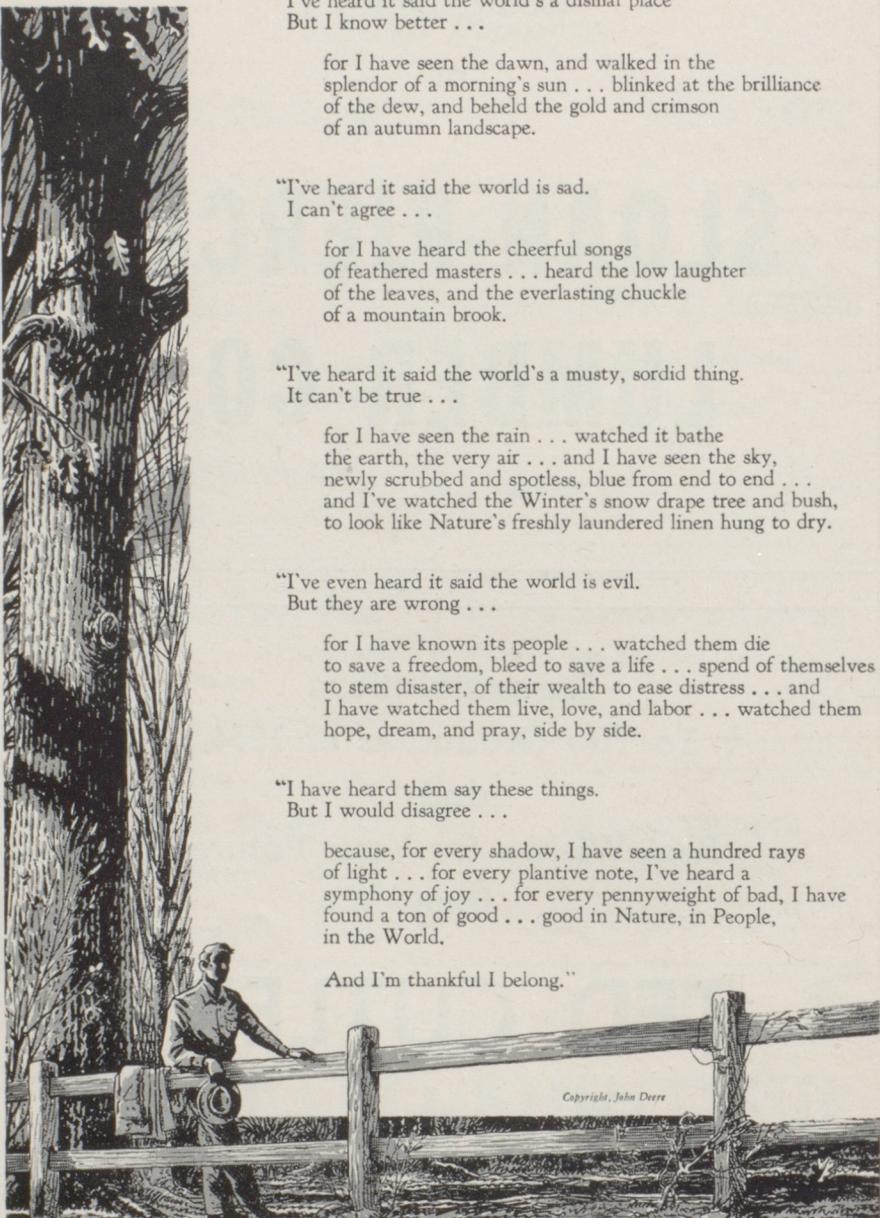

"I've even heard it said the world is evil.
But they are wrong . . .

for I have known its people . . . watched them die to save a freedom, bleed to save a life . . . spend of themselves to stem disaster, of their wealth to ease distress . . . and I have watched them live, love, and labor . . . watched them hope, dream, and pray, side by side.

"I have heard them say these things.
But I would disagree . . .

because, for every shadow, I have seen a hundred rays of light . . . for every plaintive note, I've heard a symphony of joy . . . for every pennyweight of bad, I have found a ton of good . . . good in Nature, in People, in the World.

And I'm thankful I belong."

Sophomores vs. Seniors

Sophomores go home and help with the household chores. Seniors go home when they're hungry.

A male sophomore looks for a friendly girl like Mom. This is true with seniors too—that is if Mom looks like Marilyn Monroe.

A sophomore believes the way to get ahead is to work hard. A senior works hard too—to sit next to someone who studies hard.

Sophomores think their teachers are inhuman, seniors know it.

Going Away to School?

If so, you will want insurance on your clothes, luggage, sports equipment, camera and other valuable personal belongings.

Let us explain how our modern new Personal Property Floater policy insures you against practically all risks including traveling hazards. Just phone 3-5225. There is no obligation, of course.

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF THE SENIOR A'S

- 4:00 a.m. Dave Orcutt arises to do his Sorenson's exercises.
4:15 a.m. Dick Dustin closes his book of Lord Byron's love poems after reading all night.
4:30 a.m. All good Seniors say their prayers and wait to be tucked in bed.
4:40 a.m. Ed Mohler skips to the paper branch smiling and bright-eyed.
4:45 a.m. Rich Miller comes home after a night out with the boys.
5:00 a.m. Carol Hall gets up to practice her saxophone.
5:01 a.m. The saxophone gives up.
5:10 a.m. Judy Pope and Rich Killebrew are out selling ads for the Roundup.
5:30 a.m. Nancy Nelson awakes and tries to pickpocket her father's pants for the car keys and a quick trip to West Des Moines.
6:00 a.m. Jim McConnell wakes up and starts his daily two-hour ritual of looking in the mirror.
6:30 a.m. Mary Jane Rabe and Kay McCaffrey put in a call to Iowa City to check on the Iowa U. boys.
7:00 a.m. All good Seniors are up and around.
7:01 a.m. Larry Hatfield slumbers peacefully on.
7:30 a.m. Bill Kirtley picks up Judy Skelley to take her to school.
7:45 a.m. Bob Busing and Bob Nixon are cheating in Uncle Stan's dressing race again.
8:00 a.m. Margaret Hurley and Donna Rule compare notes on their shorthand assignment.
8:15 a.m. Chuck McLeran gives the stage crew its daily lecture and twenty lashes for insubordination.
8:30 a.m. Judy Herrmann strikes out for the bus stop.
8:43 a.m. Skelley and Kirtley arrive.
8:44 a.m. Hatfield wakes up.
8:45 a.m. Mr. Barnes slams the door in Larry's face as "The Toad" falls panting outside 211.
8:50 a.m. Kay Palmer and Robin Thompson work on their English.
9:05 a.m. Marvin Thomas' golden voice can be heard ringing from 301.

9:15 a.m. Mary Bradley takes out Bob Brandt's picture to keep her awake in History class.
10:00 a.m. Jacque Steinel and Dave Ashton start filing through their admits for second hour class.
10:10 a.m. Jim Finney tells a joke.
10:15 a.m. Bill Brown puts on his chemistry apron and prepares to stir.
10:20 a.m. He's still stirring.
10:30 a.m. Mr. Irwin gives up.
10:40 a.m. The lab blows up.
10:55 a.m. Finney is still laughing.
11:00 a.m. Judy Harper writes her speech for class.
11:01 a.m. She gives it.
11:05 a.m. Rosalie Samberg smuggles the candles that Sam Robinson made for her last semester in Chemistry class.
11:20 a.m. Judy Seibert charges into the lunch line and counts her money to see if she has enough for two specials.
12:30 p.m. The rest of the Seniors rush for the lunch line and the meager morsels that are left from first lunch.
12:35 p.m. Wayne Myers goes insane at the cash register.
12:45 p.m. Clark Keller, Bill Brown, Larry Hatfield, Rich Killebrew, Rich Miller, Jim McConnell, and Bob Buisng begin their sixth plate lunch apiece.
1:10 p.m. Seniors faint. Miss Brody forgot to give a test.
3:01 p.m. Only 29 minutes left!
3:29 p.m. Gayle Gussett and Betty Jean Tucker have just bluffed through another Spanish class.
3:30 p.m. All Seniors rush to the center.
4:00 p.m. Jo Ann Mazza rushes home to look over her file of every athlete in the city of Des Moines and surrounding areas.
4:30 p.m. "Skinny Jimmy" jumped too high and is frantically waving from the top of the smokestack.
6:00 p.m. Jim Schell and Don Karlovec rush home to see Captain Video.
6:30 p.m. Seniors go out for the evening and promise to be home in time for breakfast.

Congratulations

The Place To Go For

The Names You Know

6:40 p.m. All good Seniors are helping with the dishes. It's terrible to think Mother has to do the dishes all alone every night.
7:30 p.m. Mary Archer and Mike Whitmore arrive at the library.
9:30 p.m. Joe Jester is caught trying to sneak out the window to meet the boys.
10:00 p.m. Sharon Prall is trying to decide which date to accept for the weekend.
10:30 p.m. Scott Smith is singing in the shower.
11:00 p.m. All good Seniors go to bed.
12:00 p.m. Cinderella just turned into a pumpkin.
2:00 a.m. Dick Treimer adds another chapter to his diary and calls it a day.
3:30 a.m. Alan Pearlman and Brice Oakley quit working on the Roundup and start their homework.
3:59 a.m. "The boys" arrive home.
4:00 a.m. "Muscles" is exercising again. (This is where we came in.)

—R—

Here I sit in the moonlight
Forsaken by women and men
And muttering over and over
"Never eat onions again."

—R—

Bob Lakin: I'd like some rat poison, please.

Clerk: Will you take it with you?

Bob: No, I'll send the rats over after it.

—R—

Jan: Tomorrow's Dad's birthday. What shall we do for him?

Jon: Let him have the car.

—R—

Barb Dunbar was practicing on her accordion late one night when the landlord came in.

"Do you know there's a little old lady sick upstairs?" asked the landlord.

"No," answered Barb, "Hum a little of it."

How Not to Be a June Graduate

Now that you're a senior, you're better than anyone else. Let everyone know it by:

1. Ordering sophomores to clean out your locker, carry your books, brush your teeth, and do your homework.
2. Skip school, then ask teachers what to do about it.
3. Give all your personal opinions in class. This includes telling your teachers what you think of them. In addition, tell the coach you don't need to train. You're the best man on the team anyway.
4. Borrow cars from the parking lot without asking the owners.
5. Use your great uncle's senior theme, "What Is This New Fangled Thing, the Automobile?"
6. Be the life of every senior party. Set the table clothes on fire and wave a snake between each course at the senior banquet.
7. Don't bother with handing in any homework as this useless practice is for sophomores and juniors only.

Follow this plan and you're guaranteed to graduate in June. (June 1994!!!!)

—R—
Mike: How did you get that puncture in your tire?

Kirt: Ran over a milk bottle.

Mike: Didn't you see it?

Kirt: No, the kid had it under his coat.

—R—
And then there was the time that Judy Pope soaked her formal in coffee to make sure it would stay up all night.

—R—
Usherette: A girl who's paid to put a man in his place.

Rich Relative: The kin you love to touch.

Embarrassment: When you order something on the menu and find that the orchestra is playing it.

Mushroom: A place to neck.

Lipstick: Something which adds color and flavor to an old, old pastime.

Don: Your girl is spoiled, isn't she?

Jim: No, that's just the perfume she's wearing.

Mother, come quickly!

What's the matter, dear?

Billy's eating all the raisins off the fly paper.

Officer: Use your noodle, girlie, use your noodle!

Betty Jean: My goodness; where is it? I've pushed and pulled everything in this car.

Every dog has his day, but those with broken tails have weak ends.

Flat-nosed Teacher: Now, students, watch the blackboard while I run through it again.

How did your father know you had the car out?
I ran over him.

Tom Fisher: I have a cold in my head.

Mrs. MacEachron: Well, that's something.

Found on Joe Jester's registration card: What are your parents' names?
Mamma and Papa.

Twenty Years From Now

A look into the future discloses the fate of these prominent seniors.

Jo Ann Mazza is still shining her 9763 "I Like Hoch" buttons.

Jim McConnell is posing for the "before" part in the Charles Atlas ads.

Mary Jane Rabe and Kay McCaffrey are still trying to explain to their parents why the shortest distance between Thirty-second and Thirty-fifth Streets is via Eighteenth and Grand.

Rich Killebrew has received a life time membership to Mr. Kephart's "Retest Club" for never missing a meeting.

Kearny Kier is still trying to find the way to Liz McGill's house.

George Myers is still explaining to Miss Gould why he can't walk 40 blocks in ten minutes.

Mary Ann Whitted is still playing "chug-a-lug" with her milk bottles.

Ben Hogan Oakley is now coaching ex-president Eisenhower.

Bob Lakin has won his first Oscar in Hollywood as the best character (actor) of the year.

Jockey Dave Orcutt has just carried his horse to his fifth consecutive Kentucky Derby Win.

Night club singer Janet Gambardella has been packing them in with her new act at the Copacabana.

A prominent columnist of the New York Times, Lynne Chitwood, has just received a position as foreign correspondent to Spain.

The "Twin" swimming stars, Nancy Oothout and Barbara Dunbar, are continuing their "around the world" aqua-tour which started in 1954.

Scott Smith is playing "Bumble Boogie" in Carnegie Hall with Jeri Hopkins as his manager.

Rich Miller has replaced Rocky Marciano in the boxing world.

Bob Goodwin is climbing the political ladder of success and some day he will attain his ultimate goal—to be appointed City Dog Catcher.

Joe Jester is now the new Rudolph Valentino of the movies and is appearing in "My Secret High School Loves."

Jan Bridgman is shooting golf balls down the fairway at Pebble Beach with Bob Hope and Bing Crosby.

Mighty Yields from Little Kernels Grow

Like young people in school, when warm summer breezes pull the curtain on the last chilly wind, seed corn kernels spring to life. There's adventure ahead. They sprout and thrive in Iowa's rich soil, refreshed by warm rains and a friendly sun. Before cool snowflakes again whitewash the fields, these kernels have sprung into mighty plants, bearing crib-busting yields of golden ears.

But before these Pioneer kernels will be ready for next year's planting, hundreds of detasselers must skim through the fields this summer. If you seek a few weeks out in the sun during vacation—plus a pocketful of cash along with it—stop and inquire at the Pioneer office downtown. We're looking for either boys or girls 16 years or older. Detasseling starts sometime in July and lasts about four weeks.

Mother: Don't use such bad words, dear.

Son: But, Chaucer used them.

Mother: Well, don't you play with him.

Tom: I want to do something big, something clean.

Linda: Why don't you wash an elephant?

A well-known writer, recalled by his draft board, was being interviewed by a bored sergeant, who asked, "Did you go to grammar school?"

"Yes, also high school. And I have an M.S. from Columbia, graduate courses at Cornell, back to Columbia for journalism, a degree from the University of Mexico, and . . ."

The sergeant nodded, picked up a rubber stamp, slammed it on the questionnaire, imprinting one word: "Literate."
